

Clewis Fan Fic VI

"A MATCH MADE IN HEAVEN"

Chapter 1: Internal Conflict

As Claire walks to strings, she's extremely nervous; some of her close friends just told Lewis and his friends that she likes him. As she enters the classroom, Claire's relieved by the sight of the empty first row. However, once she sits down and starts to open her case, the whole first row comes in at the same time, laughing. I hope they aren't talking about me, Claire thinks to herself. As she looks up to the TV screen, she notices that they were going to play "The Ash Grove". A perfect opportunity to flirt with him thinks Claire. Ugh, this will make everyone tease me more, but it's worth it.

"Hey Lewis!" says Claire.

"Yes?" asks Lewis.

"How's it feel to be concertmaster?"

"Good... why...."

"Umm nothing", as she scrambles to find an excuse, blushing like an apple that you would find at a supermarket.

Mr. Dandrea then begins the class. The class starts to tune in and begin Ash Grove. I like being the third chair. It's a lot easier to hear Lewis play so beautifully, thinking in her head. I wonder if I should ask him out.

Chapter 2: That one thought

Ugh, he will never like me. Claire thinks in her head, hoping she can push that thought away, but it never goes away. Her playing starts getting worse as she keeps thinking about it, and can't focus. She hopes Lewis isn't noticing that she isn't playing great, and tries to focus. When class ends, she packs up, and slowly and awkwardly walks toward Lewis, as he packs up.

"Hey Lewis," Claire says.

"Hi, " Lewis says with a wave.

"Do you want to go to the dance with me?"

"Ummmmmm"

"Yes....?" Claire asks with a nervous tone, blushing all over her face like a ripe tomato.

"Sure..." Lewis says quickly and runs away instantly.

Jenn and Elijah both notice Lewis and Claire talking, and then Lewis runs away from her quickly. They then walk to Claire, confused.

"Why did Lewis run from you like that?" Jenn asked.

"Ummm.. No reason," Claire says, but they both know something is up. They walk to Lewis.

"Why did you run from Claire?" Elijah asks.

"Well... she asked me out to the dance," Lewis says awkwardly. Elijah and Jenn both burst out laughing and run to Claire.

"YOU ASKED HIM OUT?!" Elijah and Jenn ask.

Claire then began to run away as the bell had just rung, thinking that asking Lewis out was a horrible idea.

Chapter 3: The night before the dance

Oh my god...oh my god...oh my god. I'm actually going to the dance with Lewis. He probably still doesn't like me though... Claire thinks. The way that he said yes though. It sounded like he didn't really want to. But I will get him to like me if he doesn't already. I know it. Meanwhile, Lewis was thinking about the same thing. Claire opened up Discord and messaged Lewis.

wyd? Claire messaged. She began fidgeting nervously as she waited for a reply.

hi. nothing much, he replied.

This is my chance, Claire thought.

so you know how I asked you out to the dance...

yes...?

well, i've been uh sort of wondering if you actually liked me or just went with me out of pity... Claire typed quickly and then began to get very nervous.

uh.. well...,

yes? Claire began to pace nervously around her room, trying to find something to distract her from the awkward conversation.

well i really like you lmao Lewis replied, also nervous.

omg that's super cool, Claire replied, fidgeting and wondering what to say next.

I guess I'll see you tomorrow at the dance? Claire said, thinking about how bad that sounded yeah, said the text message from Lewis.

alright, bye. Claire said, instantly turning off her phone right away. Her mom then called her down for dinner. She barely ate much. All she could think about is that Lewis actually liked her and that she was going to the dance with someone!

Chapter 4: Before the dance

The day seemed to go in a blur for Claire. She was so nervous but excited about the dance right after school. She tried to dress in a pretty outfit to impress Lewis, even though she thought it was weird. Even though the day went super fast for her, strings were very awkward and she kept getting teased by the first row. During class, Jenn kept asking Claire if they were going to hug or kiss, and what they were going to do during the dance. When the bell finally rang, Claire was so relieved and ran out with Lewis to the blacktop where they got in line to enter the dance.

"Strings was so not fun," Claire said to Lewis.

"I could tell. Elijah kept teasing me too," Lewis said, with an annoyed expression.

"Oh well, at least we can enjoy the dance now,"

"I guess so."

As they waited in line, they awkwardly stood next to each other, wondering what to talk about. When they finally got to enter, they were both excited.

"Hmm, what do you want to do?" Lewis asked Claire.

"Let's just get a drink and snacks," Claire replied.

They walked over to the snack bar and bought a drink and chips. They then sat at a table, waiting for the actual dance to start.

"How are you?" Claire asked Lewis.

"Ehhhhh. I'm pretty bored," Lewis replied.

"Oh well."

Just after Lewis said that the music began, and people started to fill the dance floor.

Chapter 5: The Dancing

None of them actually knew how to dance properly, as Claire only knew K-pop dances, and Lewis never learned how to dance. They both just did random moves and copied other people that looked like they knew what they were doing. Eventually, they got bored of dancing and just bought more snacks.

"This is so boring. I can't believe you thought this was a good idea" Lewis said, with an annoyed tone.

"Sheesh, I'm sorry," Claire replied, teary-eyed.

"Let's just go home."

"Fine."

They then said goodbye to their friends, and when they said goodbye they all said something similar to "Why are you leaving so early?" They just replied that it got boring, and left the school. Claire went back home in disappointment thinking about how she lost her perfect chance to get Lewis to like her. Lewis also went back home thinking about the dance.

Chapter 6: After the Dance

Claire opened up Discord, wondering what to text Lewis. She decided that she wanted to try to extend her fun with Lewis, and decided it would be worth it to try and ask him out to the movies.

hi..., she texted Lewis.

hi, he responded.

the dance really sucked ngl, Claire replied.

yep.

since it was so bad, do you want to go to the movies? Claire sent, starting to get very nervous

sure... why not, Lewis replied

when though, he messaged after a few seconds.

we can go after school tomorrow, Claire messaged.

sure, i have nothing to do, he replied.

Cool! Claire replied, then turned off her phone.